

NEURUS SEMINAR Berlin March 12-14, 2008

Network for European-U.S. Regional and Urban Studies

hosted by Institute of Geography Humboldt-University at Berlin, Germany

Local phone numbers
Office hours 08:00 am to 04:00 pm

+49 30 2093 6814 Elmar Kulke
+49 30 2093 6886 Peter Dannenberg

Preliminary schedule – changes probable

Wednesday, March 12, 2008

Afternoon/evening: Arriving at Berlin. There are good connections by public transport and taxi from all Berlin airports (Tegel, Schönefeld and Tempelhof) to Alexanderplatz.

Hotel Park Inn Alexanderplatz

Alexanderplatz 7; 10178 Berlin

Telefon +49 30 23 89 - 0, Fax: +49 30 23 89 - 43 05

<http://parkinnalexanderplatz.berlinhotels.it>, E-Mail: info@rezidorparkinn.com

Station Alexanderplatz

Underground U2, U5, U8; City Train S5, S7, S75, S9; RE1, RE2, RE7, RB14

Bus 100, 200, 248, M48, TXL; Tram M2, M4, M5, M6

Evening dinner on your own

Thursday, March 13, 2008 – Geography Department, Room 1'206

To get to the Geography Department, take City Train S 9 (see map below) from station Alexanderplatz to station Adlershof, from there 10 minutes walk to the department (see map below). Please depart hotel at 8:15 am.

09.00 Opening and welcome

09.30 Excursion Technology Park Adlershof, www.adlershof.de/index.php?wista0&L=14

12.00 Lunch break

Student Presentations session I – Elmar Kulke, moderator

(15 min. presentation – 5 min. discussant – 5 min. general discussion)

13.00 Christiaan Bos: Affordable Housing and the Illinois Planning Act

13.30 Gerjan Dragt: The Role of Public Private Partnerships in the Revitalization of Greyfields

14.00 Stefan Pargfrieder: Business Development Adjacent to Airports

14.30 Julia Wolf: Environmental and Geographic Influences on Airport Expansion

15.00 Break

Student Presentations session II – Scott Bollens, moderator

- 15.30 Niek Goorman: Spatial Effects of Power Generation in North Carolina
- 16.00 Mallory Rahe: Cluster Analysis in European Policy
- 16.30 Philipp Scheerer: The Costs and Benefits of Industrial Tax Abatements: The Case of Champaign
- 17.00 Ken Spillberg: Special Places as Instigators of Community Identity in Urban Neighborhoods

- 17.30 Transfer to the restaurant “Villa Rixdorf” by city train
- 18.30 Humboldt-University hosted dinner at the restaurant “Villa Rixdorf”

Friday, March 14, 2008 – Geography Department/Excursion Berlin City

To get to the Geography Department, take City Train S 9 (see map below) from station Alexanderplatz to station Adlershof, from there 10 minutes walk to the department (see map below). Please depart hotel at 7:45 am.

PhD Student Presentations – Harvey Goldstein, moderator

- 08.30 Daniela Schüler (PhD student): Urban potential sites in Berlin
- 09.00 Thorsten Schmidt (PhD student): Understanding shrinking cities in the U.S.

- 09.30 Consultation with host and home faculty advisors
- 11.00 Conclusions and Reflections
- 11.30 Transfer to the city center for the excursion

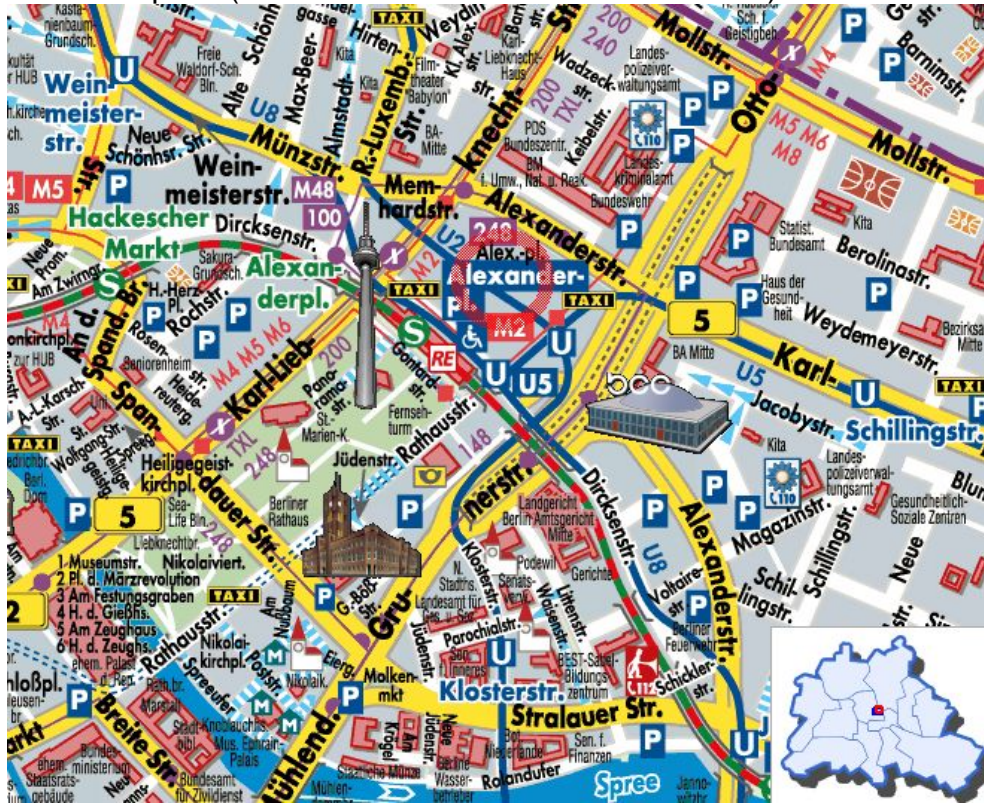

- 12.30 Lunch at a local restaurant

- 13.30 Excursion Berlin City (Elmar Kulke)

- 18.30 Meet at local restaurant

Maps

Alexanderplatz (Red circle: Location of Park Inn Hotel)

Adlershof (Red circle: Location of Geography Department)

Participants

Berlin, Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

Elmar Kulke
Peter Dannenberg
Philipp Scheerer
Thorsten Schmidt
Daniela Schüler
Julia Wolf

Gainesville, University of Florida

Chris Silver
Zhong-Ren Peng
N.N. (Master Student)

Groningen, Rijksuniversiteit Groningen

Paul van Steen
Christiaan Bos
Gerjan Dragt
Niek Goorman

Irvine, University of California

Scott Bollens
Ken Spillberg

Tübingen, Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen

Sebastian Kinder

Urbana, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Edward Feser
Mallory Rahe

Wien, Wirtschaftsuniversität Wien

Gunther Maier
Edward Bergman
Stefan Pargfrieder